WELCOME

Named after the storied British racetrack, Brooklands by Claude Bosi is a two Michelin star restaurant, bar, terrace, and cigar tasting room situated on the eighth-floor of The Peninsula London.

Embark on a gastronomic journey across the British Isles surrounded by rare memorabilia from the worlds of aviation and motorsport, all set against a stunning backdrop of the London skyline.

"This restaurant epitomises our dedication to hospitality and our continued strive for innovation."

SPACES

Guests arriving on the top floor of The Peninsula London will discover a collection of distinctive spaces inspired by the classic eras of British aviation and motorsport. To the east, Brooklands Bar offers unrivalled views over London's skyline and Buckingham Palace. To the west, an introduction to the legacy of the racetrack leads to the light-flooded rooftop restaurant and expansive terrace.
